DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the embodiments of claims 20, 23 and 24 must be shown or the features canceled from the claims. No new matter should be entered. Regarding claims 20 and 24, the embodiment in Figure 7 lacks sufficient detail with respect to the rollers. Regarding claim 23, note that while an embodiment having a single compaction unit configured as claimed is shown, the unit shown with two compaction units as claimed is not shown. Also see the 112 2nd rejection below.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The structural configuration of claim 23 appears to contradict the limitations of parent claim 20, since the drum/roller configurations as claimed are not compatible with one another.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 20, 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muro et al. (U.S. Patent 6,132,133) in view of Sunderlind et al. (U.S. Patent 3,869,010).

Muro et al. discloses a compactor having two spaced units (Figure 1). The compactor is powered and adjustable to permit steering. There is a belt and roller assembly configured as claimed (Figure 3), but only one of the units has this structure. Sunderlind et al. teaches that it is advantageous to use belt and rollers as replacements for all wheels. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used this configuration for each of the units in order to compact with both units or in order to improve traction, as taught by Sunderlind et al. Note that providing both assemblies with this configuration is simply a duplication of parts, which is not patentable subject matter.

Regarding claim 23, given the 112 2nd rejection, above, this claim is not met. It is noted, however, that it is well known to utilize different configurations of rollers for different applications of the apparatus. For this reason, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used a different roller configuration.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-13 and 16-18 allowed.

Response to Arguments

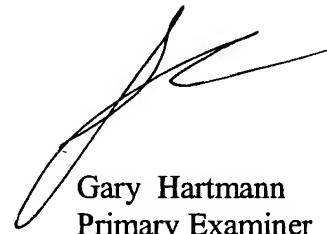

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 20, 23, 24 and 33 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection. Specifically, the Sunderlind reference has overcome the deficiencies of Muro et al. alone.
